Trigger War

From this second point of view, an obvious infringement on the authority of the President, a "check and balance," like this proposition of leaving it to someone else—Congress, in this case—to make a supreme decision like a declaration of war, is a galling and humiliating curtailment of the power he would like to exercise.

All the great military despots of history—from Alexander the Great down through Caesar and Napoleon to the more recent days of Hitler and Mussolini—all these monarchs made up their own minds when they wanted a war. They didn't have to ask anyone else—especially a legislative branch of the government to which they had already expressed their strong antipathy.

Going beyond this feeling on the part of the Executive, there is a somewhat different slant, though reaching the same conclusion, in the minds of the "statesmen" and bureaucrats who work next to the throne. These are largely career zealots who gradually come to believe the end justifies any means, and that they know a lot better what is good for the American people than the people do themselves.

This corps has dragged us into several wars, during the recent generations, "through the back door." Today they do business around the globe with despotic governments, Socialist dictatorships largely, which have brushed aside all "nonsense" about the people having a voice in their public affairs. These foreign leaders can declare war, or not, as they choose, and make their decision stick. It is only human nature for America's bureaucrats to want the same scale of power.

An outright proposition of amending the Constitution to transfer the war-making authority from Congress to President would be the aboveboard way of getting the question decided. But such an amendment wouldn't have an outside chance to be adopted. Its proposal would alarm the whole nation.

Therefore, the use of a "gimmick" to get the same result. The gimmick is that of legislating (and in this case, amending the Constitution) by passing tri-tries.

Under the Constitution, treaties duly ratified become part of the supreme law of the land.

All that the Truman New Dealers need to do, to amend any part of the Constitution, is to write a treaty doing this, and jam it through the Senate.

Considerable amendment to the basic law already has been accomplished, in local areas, by this means. The Mexican Water Pact of 1945, for example, radically changed the Constitutional status of American citizens and interests in the affected American territory.

But these prior instances were mere dress-rehearsals for the big test case raised by the Atlantic Pact.

This is the first time it has been badly proposed to change a basic, fundamental point in the Constitution by the process of putting it into a treaty.

Under the Atlantic Pact, the declaration of war will become an automatic, "trigger" proposition. Events—even staged events—far off from the American homefront will start the war going. Congress will have the right only to admit that the war is going on—not to decide between war and peace. Or Congress could, of course, if it wanted to be silly about it, vote that no war existed—despite the fact it would actually be in progress.

Under the terms of the Atlantic Pact, and the collateral arms program for European nations, war could be started at any time by any of the foreign powers to whom we are now about to supply war equipment. Our military equipment would be involved at once, together with any American troops sent to their countries as part of our rearming program.

We would be morally bound—and probably legally bound as well—to pitch all-out into this war someone else started.

It is fantastic to argue that in such a situation it would be Congress, rather than the President, who was starting the war. On the other hand, think this over:

No race of people in all history could ever claim the right to call themselves "free" when they surrendered to someone else the power to decide whether they would be at war or at peace.

PHILA. EAGLES GET CLOSE WIN OVER ALL-STARS

"Johnny" Green's field goal from the center of the court with seconds left to play gave the Philadelphia Eagles a close 40-39 triumph over the Bristol League All-Stars last night in the first game on the high school floor.

Green, star of the Mercerberg Academy team, made his goal after Ben Kish, Eagles' football star had dropped in a pair of double-deckers to cut the All-Stars' lead from 39-34 to 39-38. However, with eight seconds remaining to be played, Joe Roe was fouled and had a chance to deadlock the score but he missed out.

The All-Stars outplayed their foes in the first half in building up a 28-13 lead, taking the edge by 16-4 in the first quarter. But the entry of Ben Kish into the game at the start of the second half made the Eagles appear to be a different team. It held the All-Stars to five points in the third quarter while it scored eight. In the last session, the Eagles went to town to capture the contest.

The sports fans of this section, the largest crowd of the season, were familiar with the names in the Eagles' lineup, there being Kish and Jack Hinkel, of the Eagles; Buddy Sutton, of the Cincinnati baseball team; "Mike" Jarmaluk, of the New York Bulldogs; "Walt" Stickle, of the Chicago Bears; Charlie Hammond, of Franklin and Marshall; Bob Peterson, of Germantown Academy, and Green.

In the first game Wednesday night, the Bristol High School team will play the Bristol League All-Stars. Coaches Jerry Bloom and Harry McClister will play with the high school team.

We pray, O God, this day for deliverance. We want no easy escape from misfortune and disaster, or no charmed protection from affliction and sorrow. ST. ANN'S EARNS WAY TO FINALS IN LEAGUE RACE

St. Ann's A. A. earned their way to the finals of the Bristol Basketball League by crushing the Falls Alumni aggregation, 60-45, last night on the high school floor. The "Saints" will now meet the Profy team in a three-game series for the championship, starting next Wednesday night.

Falls furnished little opposition to the Purple and Gold in the contest. The tilt was close in the first period which ended 13-10 but from then on the St. Ann's lead began to swell. By the time the half rolled around, "Kenny" Stoll had sunk in five double-deckers to help the "Saints" to a 26-18 lead.

From the opening whistle of the second half to the end of the fracas, Falls was never less than ten points behind. In fact, the finale saw the Alumni contingent trailing by 15 or more throughout. In the last few seconds, Van Lenten gave the losers two points by tapping the ball in their basket.

The winners were poor shots from the foul line as they made but six out of 17 tries. Even "Ken" Stoll who had 12 double-deckers for his night's work could not convert from the charity line, he missing all of his seven attempts. However, that dozen of field goals plus 17 points by Van Lenten gave the St. Ann's aggregation its victory.

The Falls team was erratic in both its passing and shooting and received its worst licking of the season. At times, both teams were wild with their passing which coupled with the large St. Ann's lead made the game uninteresting.

Joe Natale did nice defensive work for the winners with "Norm" White playing a fine game for Falls.

Sportsmen's Briefs

By JOE ELBERSON

Here's the situation . . . from the offices of the Pennsylvania Game Commission comes this release on hunting license fees in Pennsylvania:

"If Pennsylvania's Legislature decides to increase the present $2.00 resident hunting license fee to $3.65, it would still be the biggest bargain found anywhere for the privilege of hunting both big and small game and trapping all kinds of furbearers," remarked Ross L. Leffler, President of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, today.

"A study of the fees charged residents of other States shows that hunting and trapping privileges are generally from two to four times as much as the $2.00 rate which has been in effect in Pennsylvania since 1927."

After a careful analysis last fall, the Commission determined that it would require a resident hunting license fee of not less than $5.00 to do the things the hunters are demanding. The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at its October 1948 and February 1949 meetings unanimously endorsed a resident fee of $3.65, fifteen cents of which would be paid to the issuing agent.

Mr. Leffler explained that money saved during the war, now nearly exhausted, is being used to finance the equivalent of a $3.00 program with a $2.00 license fee, and pointed out that a $3.65 license fee would only continue the present program and provide for very little improvement.

"According to current reports," he further remarked, "the Legislature believes a $3.15 resident fee to be sufficient. This means that the Commission would receive but $3.00 net to carry on all of its activities. If that fee should become enacted into law there is one thing sure—everybody will be disappointed. It will be impossible to show any improvement and to create any satisfaction among the million hunters of the Keystone State with only a $3.15 fee.

"We just released a tabulation to the legislators, sportsmen's clubs and others interested, showing that for the privileges presently granted for a $2.00 fee in Pennsylvania, New York charges $6.50, Ohio $6.25, New Jersey $3.15, Maryland $5.25, Virginia $24.50, Michigan $9.50, California $5.00, Illinois $4.00, Wisconsin $6.00, and Connecticut $6.35.

"Three dollars and sixty-five cents is the barest minimum needed, and $3.15 which has been suggested by the Legislature, just will not do the job nor make any improvement for our sportsmen.

"Pennsylvania's sportsmen should be willing to spend a 'penny a day' to hunt the American way," concluded Leffler.

Shoot . . . this Sunday, beginning at 12 noon, the Newportville Rod & Gun Club will hold a white flyer shoot over the club traps at Lake Louise, Eddington. All shooters are invited to participate.

Yours for the writing . . . filled with useful facts and tips which all shooters and hunters can put to practical use, a new, revised edition of the popular Western Ammunition Handbooks is now available to sportsmen without charge.

The 76-page edition of the Handbook, one of the leading publications of its kind and of which many thousands have been distributed, may be had on request by writing to Department 209, Western Cartridge

Co., division of Olin Industries, Inc., East Aiton, Illinois.

Shooting lore and hints, ballistic data and valuable information on ammunition, shotgun and rifle performance are among the many facts presented in the illustrated Handbook. It reveals, for example, which of today's center fire cartridges are best for various species of game animals and makes a similar listing of shotgun shells for waterfowl and upland game birds. The science of trajectory is explained and diagrammed in simple language. Westby's unique charts showing the distinctive trajectory curves of many popular bullets enable shooters to determine how much to hold over or under to score hits when the target is at a distance greater or less than the range for which their rifle is sighted in.

Shotgun patterns, shot sizes and the proper use of various degrees of choke are among the many phases of shotgun shooting discussed, along with the speed of flight of wildfowl (a vital consideration in "loading" birds) and the weight of individual pellets in common use today. Among other varied subjects explained are sighting in a rifle, the meaning of the numerals used in modern cartridge designation, the causes of recoil, the significance of the ratio between velocity and bullet weight, and the performance differences between solid, soft-point and hollow point bullets.

The last two pages of the Handbook are devoted to a glossary of terms which modern shooters should know.

New Plymouth on Display

Plymouth's new special deluxe is featured above. Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

TEN SCHOOLS SEND DELEGATES TO THE F. F. A. CONFERENCE

Nearly 200 Future Farmers Assemble From Three Counties

QUAKERTOWN AFFAIR

Panel Discussions, Tours of Interest, and Quiz Included

QUAKERTOWN, Mar. 25 — Delegates from ten schools in the Bucks, Lehigh and Montgomery county area, totalling nearly 200, attended the annual leadership training conference for Future Farmers of America, held in Quakertown high school, here.

Speakers, panel discussions, a quiz, tours and a banquet in Spinnerstown Grange Hall made up the program for this affair.

Welcome to the group was given by Joseph S. Neldig, supervising principal of Quakertown schools. This was followed by a discussion on financing F. F. A. Chapter activities by Paul Dunkelberger, Kutztown high school. A panel discussion on informal F. F. A. activities was held led by Joseph Froeh, executive secretary Bucks-Le-Mont Regional F. F. A. Practices carried on by the several chapters included informal initiations, Halloween dances, minstrels, sports, and joint parties with home economics girls.

V. A. Martin, F. F. A. advisor, Pennsylvania State Association, stressed the need for having well planned, regularly scheduled meetings and programs set up to get full participation of all members of the chapter.

The group was given a history of the F. F. A. by Raymond W. Lloyd, county advisor of vocational agriculture for Bucks, Lehigh, and Montgomery counties. Mr. Lloyd pointed out how the F. F. A. has grown both regionally and nationally, from its beginning in November, 1923. He pointed out that the tri-county area now has 360 members and from the area have come two American Farmers and 43 Keystone Farmers.

A quiz on the F. F. A. was conducted by Mr. Martin and was participated in by a member from each chapter. This contest was won by Robert Gehman, Coopersburg.

Alvin Moyer, Pennsylvania F. F. A. president, spoke briefly.

Wayne Handwerk, representative of a soup company, gave a very interesting and inspirational talk on "Efficiency." Using products of everyday life, Mr. Handwerk brought out the need for efficiency in production, handling, and marketing farm products.

A tour was taken of the Quakertown high school farm, the first F. F. A. farm in Pennsylvania, where the group saw the modern, efficient, and practical farm operated as part of the vocational agriculture program of the Quakertown schools. A tour of the various vocational shops and other departments of interest was also made.

The day was brought to a close with a banquet at which V. A. Martin was the speaker of the evening. This was followed by a program of entertainment.

Meetings of the Bucks-Le-Mont Regional F. F. A. are held bi-monthly. The schools of Bucks county area which have vocational agriculture departments and F. F. A. chapters are Nockamixon, Springfield, Quakertown, Deep Run Valley, and Council Rock.

Rathke and Fine Speak To The Exchangeites

Members and guests of Bristol Exchange Club held their weekly dinner meeting in St. James' parish house, last evening, with Edward Fleming presiding.

The program was in charge of Paul V. Forster, Esq., who presented Charles Rathke, president of borough council, and William H. H. Fine, tax collector, as the speakers of the evening.

Mr. Rathke gave a brief and interesting history of the borough council, comparing its functions at the time it was organized to those of the present day.

Mr. Fine's subject was "Local Taxes and Tax Collection," and he gave his fellow-members an interesting 15 minute talk. He stated that "Every effort is being made to properly list all residents of the borough of Bristol in order that taxes which are rightfully due shall be collected at the proper time." He stressed the fact that Bristol is one of Pennsylvania's most rapidly growing boroughs with fast progressing surrounding communities. The reason for this extraordinary progress, he informed, is that Bristol has so many advantages to offer industry in locating here. He mentioned transportation by bus to Trenton, Philadelphia and Doylestown; railroad system; and deep waterways. Mr. Fine added that the borough is just a short distance from seashore points. His theme throughout was "Don't sell Bristol short." He concluded "We have everything to offer in the way of facilities to encourage expansion."

Dinner was served by the women of St. James' Church.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

A friendship which meant long Sunday afternoons spent together in walks, attending a theatre, then a treat of ice cream, has been broken by death.

Wilmet Johnson, Doylestown, who wondered why his friend, Raymond MacFarland, didn't appear at the county seat for the weekly treat which Johnson provided, learned this week of the death of MacFarland, who worked for his board on a farm in Doylestown township.

The friendship began casually last summer, the 59-year-old Doylestown man entertaining each Sunday his 66-year-old friend. Since MacFarland received no compensation in money for his work, according to Johnson, the latter made it his pleasure to take the elderly man to the "movies," provide bus fare, then buy ice cream. "We always took a walk about town to see any new buildings or improvements," commented Johnson in speaking of the friend whom he met casually on the street at Doylestown last July, and whose visits he now misses so much.

Addressing the monthly meeting of the Bucks County Bankers Association, at Doylestown, Monday evening, District Attorney Edward G. Biester praised the citizenry of Bucks county for their appreciation and willingness to co-operate in law enforcement problems.

The speaker emphasized how

Two Naval Reserve Men Hurt; Car Strikes Pole

YARDLEY, Mar. 25 — Failing to note that a road near here came to a dead-end, two of three members of the U. S. Naval Reserve, stationed at Willow Grove Naval Air Station, were injured early last evening, when the automobile in which they were riding struck a pole and hurtled 50 feet into a field. One of the three was thrown from the vehicle.

The injured: John Gibson, 26, cut over right eye.

The driver of the car, Mark W. Billig, 26, of Catawissa, a naval reserve officer who is stationed at Willow Grove, was unhurt. Ryan was the one thrown from the machine.

The trio was taken back to the Willow Grove station in an ambulance which was dispatched from there at the request of the three. According to State Police of the Langhorne barracks, who investigated, Billig was driving the machine east toward Yardley. One-half mile west of this borough, at the intersection of the road leading to Newtown, he evidently failed to notice that the road came to a dead-end. The right side of the car struck a pole, and the car continued into a field. The machine was considerably damaged on the right side.

Rotarians See Movies At Weekly Session

A representative of the Townmotor Corporation, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of machinery employed in the handling and moving of material in industry, presented an interesting reel of sound movies to members of the Bristol Rotary Club at St. James Parish House yesterday, afternoon, which graphically illustrated the importance of this type of machinery in moving raw materials to the production line and the moving of the finished products to their points of exit for shipment to the market.

Vice-president, William J. Begley, was in charge of the meeting. Guests were present from Morrisville, Jenkintown and Wynnmon. Honorary member John S. Roberts, Jr. was also present.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT HOLDS UP SNACK BAR

Robs Quakertown Place of $50 and Hits Clerk With Blackjack

STATE POLICE ON CASE

QUAKERTOWN, Mar. 25 — A youth walked into the Quakertown snack bar, hit a clerk on the head and took about $50 in cash out of the cash register.

The bandit, described as red-headed, walked into the place at about 9:25 Tuesday night when LeRoy Hillegas was on duty. The store is known as Allen's Snack Bar, Fifth and Apple streets. He ordered a quart of ice cream.

When Hillegas had finished dipping the ice cream and was about to turn around with the package, he was struck on the head twice by the thug with a blackjack.

The thug snatched the contents of the cash register, amounting to approximately $50 in cash, and fled, but not until Hillegas had scuffled with the thug for a few minutes.

About this time, Abram Syter, Quakertown, entered the store and the three fought for a few seconds when the thug got away and ran down the street. Syter ran after him, up and down several side streets and alleys and finally lost track of him.

The owner of the snack bar is Mrs. Doris Allen, who estimated the loss to Quakertown police. George Harr and S. J. Reider.

State Police of the Quakertown sub-station have also assisted in the investigation.

The thief was reported to be about 17 years old, five feet, nine inches tall, and wore a heavy tan shirt.

Two Committees Named By Laurel Bend P. T. A.

Two committees were appointed at the Laurel Bend Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the school house last evening. The nominating committee is composed of: James Foley, Mrs. Lloyd Bucher and Miss Breslin; and playground equipment committee is headed by Melvin Houser.

A "white elephant" sale is to be held in conjunction with the April session; and named to serve refreshments at the next meeting are Mrs. Walter Prickett, Mrs. Fred Douglass, and J. Haeblerle.

A covered dish supper preceded last night's meeting, the committee outlining the affair being composed of: Mrs. Nelson Simon, Mrs. J. Vattimo, Mrs. M. Houser and Mrs. Charles Neilson. A motion picture "Silver Skates," was enjoyed, the entertainment committee comprising: Mrs. Vattimo, Mrs. M. Sweet and Mrs. C. Schutze.

The clothing exchange project is now in operation, and members report that clothing for boys, sizes eight, nine and ten, is in demand. In charge of this is Mrs. Harry Hughes, Mrs. Prickett and Mrs. Douglass.

Attendance banner was won by Miss Breslin's class.

TRIGGER WAR

President Truman and his New Deal advisers believe they have found a "gimmick" with which to get around the Constitution whenever it gets in their way.

A gimmick is a hidden device to prevent something from working the way it should. If a butcher hides a weight in his scales, that's a gimmick. So is a magnet hidden inside a roulette wheel. In both cases, the gimmick operates to change the normal and honest operation of the instrument to which it is applied. The gimmick on the scales prevents it from recording true weight. The gimmick on the roulette wheel prevents it from picking a number solely by the laws of chance.

The American Constitution was written to set up certain definite checks and balances against the office of President. The men who wrote the Constitution knew all about tyranny from personal experience. They considered it vital that this nation be protected against it. That's one of the big jobs of the Constitution—to keep the real power in hands of the American people themselves, not in the hands of the officials of government.

Under the Constitution, the power to declare war, which in many ways is the most supreme power of any country, is lodged in the hands of the U. S. Congress. Here is what the Constitution says:

"The Congress shall have Power . . . to declare War."

That's clear enough. There is nowhere so much as a single word to give the President war-making power. He is, of course, commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy, and he also has power to draw up treaties for the approval (by a two-thirds vote) or rejection of the Senate. But the obvious and unmistakable intention was that war could be declared only by Congress, acting as direct and closest representatives of the American people.

Now, there are two possible types of men who can come to the White House as Chief Executive. One is the kind who believes that his supremest duty is to uphold the Constitution. He willingly follows the precise pattern of authority laid down in that document.

The other type wants to be Boss with a capital "B," and he interprets his oath of office, binding him to maintain and defend the Constitution, as being little more than a formality—as being no real hindrance from doing whatever he decides he would like to do.

GOVERNOR TOLD OF BRIDGE OBJECTIONS

Residents of Morrisville Explain Why They Oppose The Project

WILL BE CONSIDERED

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 25 — The committee of residents desiring to protest the building of an approach to the proposed bridge across the Delaware river here visited Governor James H. Duff at Harrisburg yesterday.

The group was told by the Governor that he would consider their plea for rejection of Bill 805, which gives the Delaware River Joint Bridge Commission the right to construct a bridge approach through this borough.

Duff pointed out that he felt the bill was designed for the good of the public in general and that the group would have to show "compelling reasons" for vetoing the bill or adopting alternate routes for the Trenton-Morrisville bridge approach.

He assured the group, however, that he would confer with the state highway secretary to see what plans and commitments had been made before taking definite action on the bill.

E. D. Darlington, a member of the citizens committee, told Duff the bill would take away the borough's right in the future to protect the land of its residents from the bridge commission. The commission is controlled by neither New Jersey nor Pennsylvania, he said, and some sort of control should be left to the borough.

Leo Schriener, a member of the Holy Trinity Church in Morrisville, appealed to Gov. Duff on behalf of the church which would be affected by the projected bridge. Present plans call for the approach to come within 11 feet of the side of the church.

In view of the meeting, Darlington said he felt Gov. Duff "showed every consideration possible, but whether or not he will veto the bill or insist on an alternate proposal we cannot say."

School Problems To Be Discussed at Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 25 — Officials of three school boards of this area will be present on Monday evening in Hulmeville school house to answer questions asked by residents of Hulmeville borough regarding school problems here. The meeting is called for eight o'clock.

The gathering will be addressed by Dr. N. P. Larson, president of the newly-formed Hulmeville school board, and by Dr. Oliver Heckman, superintendent of Langhorne-Middletown schools.

The two above mentioned, together with Phillip Lewis, Langhorne, president of the five-area board in this locality, and Kenneth Comly, Pennell, president of Hulmeville-Middletown board, and the members of Hulmeville board will answer questions.

The local board is endeavoring to solve the problem of raising sufficient funds for school purposes here, a "mounting deficit" having been given by members of the former board as reason for mass resignation last July.

The public is invited to attend.

Hinds is Now Sergeant; Plays With Two Bands

GHQ HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE, TOKYO, Mar. 25 — Horace A. Hinds, Wilson avenue, Bristol, Pa., was recently promoted to the grade of "sergeant," it was disclosed by GHQ Hometown News Service at General MacArthur's Headquarters in the Far East Command.

Hinds is presently assigned to the 293rd Army Band, Headquarters and Service Group, at General MacArthur's Headquarters in Tokyo. He performs the duties of a trumpet player in the concert and marching band, and first trumpet in the GHQ dance band. In addition to these he also is noncommissioned officer in charge of his squad room, and company fire warden.

Sgt. Hinds entered the army shortly after graduation from Bristol high school in June, 1947. He took basic infantry training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and also attended the band training school there. In late January, 1948, he embarked for the Far East Command from Fort Lawton, Wash., arriving in General Headquarters approximately a month later, and assumed his present duties with the 293rd army band.

The 293rd army band is often seen marching on the narrow thoroughfares of Tokyo, swinging along in perfect time, making split second "column rights," and capturing the admiration of practically all personnel, civilian and military, who watch them. The 293rd is often called "the best band in the Far East Command."

Sgt. Hinds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hinds, presently reside at 2116 Wilson avenue.

STUDENTS STAGE WONDERFUL SHOW AT BENSALAM HIGH

Repeat Performance of 13th Annual Gymkhana To Be Given Tonight

CROWD IS THRILLED

Colorful Performance Holds Large Audience In Suspense

—There will be a repeat performance tonight of the 13th annual Gymkhana (gymnastic exhibition) given by the students of the Bensalem Township high school. The exhibition will be held in the high school auditorium on the Bristol Pike, here.

Last night's colorful performance held the audience in suspense as the students went through their antics in the various events of the exhibition. Outstanding was the performance on the horse, flying rings, and parallel bars.

Some of the work done on the rings and bars usually take several years to perfect but the Bensalem students grasped it during this season of "gym" classes under the direction of the physical education directors, John Messenger and Annetta Reher. It was brought out that the "crucifix" number exhibited by "Bill" Hart was done with three days' practice.

With the rings, the boys and girls did uprisers, upstarts, galnor and dismounts, drop ups, dislocates, and double-cut off with dismounts. On the horse, the gymnasts did the high front vaults, leg circles, scissors, thief vaults, and head stands with kip. The performances on the parallel bars were the low under-swing upstart, uprisers, drop-kips, front somersaults, back hand springs and dismounts, side circles, shoulder balances, and double-cut on and catch leg circles.

Christine Kelly was the only girl performer on the parallel bars and was in a class with the boys. Another outstanding girl performer was Dotty Bingham, who had one of the leading roles on the mat event.

Larry Michaels and George Ashton thrilled the large gathering on the mats when both dove over the bodies of nine youths placed side by side.

One of the most colorful scenes of the evening was the drill put on by 15 girls with green and red flashlights after the lights of the auditorium were put out. Fourteen girls dressed in cowgirl suits and singing and tapping to the tune of "Sioux City Sue" made an interesting number, while over 40 boys took part in the pyramids number which featured the building of body pyramids.

TEN SCHOOLS SEND DELEGATES TO THE F. F. A. CONFERENCE

Nearly 200 Future Farmers Assemble From Three Counties

QUAKERTOWN AFFAIR

Panel Discussions, Tours of Interest, and Quiz Included

QUAKERTOWN, Mar. 25—Delegates from ten schools in the Bucks, Lehigh and Montgomery county area, totalling nearly 200, attended the annual leadership training conference for Future Farmers of America, held in Quakertown high school, here.

Speakers, panel discussions, a quiz, tours and a banquet in Spinnertown Grange Hall made up the program for this affair.

Welcome to the group was given by Joseph S. Neldig, supervising principal of Quakertown schools. This was followed by a discussion on financing F. F. A. Chapter activities by Paul Dunkelberger, Kutztown high school. A panel discussion on informal F. F. A. activities was held led by Joseph Frech, executive secretary Bucks-Le-Mont Regional F. F. A. Practices carried on by the several chapters included informal initiations, Halloween floats, dances, minstrels, sports, and joint parties with home economics girls.

V. A. Martin, F. F. A. advisor, Pennsylvania State Association, stressed the need for having well planned, regularly scheduled meetings and programs set up to get full participation of all members of the chapter.

The group was given a history of the F. F. A. by Raymond W. Lloyd, county advisor of vocational agriculture for Bucks, Lehigh, and Montgomery counties. Mr. Lloyd pointed out how the F. F. A. has grown both regionally and nationally, from its beginning in November, 1923. He pointed out that the tri-county area now has 360 members and from the area have come two American Farmers and 43 Keystone Farmers.

A quiz on the F. F. A. was conducted by Mr. Martin and was participated in by a member from each chapter. This contest was won by Robert Gehman, Coopersburg.

Alvin Moyer, Pennsylvania F. F. A. president, spoke briefly. Wayne Handwerk, representative of a soup company, gave a very interesting and inspirational talk on "Efficiency." Using products of everyday life, Mr. Handwerk brought out the need for efficiency in production, handling, and marketing farm products.

A tour was taken of the Quakertown high school farm, the first F. F. A. farm in Pennsylvania, where the group saw the modern, efficient, and practical farm operated as part of the vocational agriculture program of the Quakertown schools. A tour of the various vocational shops and other departments of interest was also made.

The day was brought to a close with a banquet at which V. A. Martin was the speaker of the evening. This was followed by a program of entertainment.

Meetings of the Bucks-Le-Mont Regional F. F. A. are held bi-monthly. The schools of Bucks county area which have vocational agriculture departments and F. F. A. chapters are Nockamixon, Springfield, Quakertown, Deep Run Valley, and Council Rock.

Rathke and Fine Speak To The Exchangeites

Members and guests of Bristol Exchange Club held their weekly dinner meeting in St. James' parish house, last evening, with Edward Fleming presiding.

The program was in charge of Paul V. Forster, Esq., who presented Charles Rathke, president of borough council; and William H. H. Fine, tax collector, as the speakers of the evening.

Mr. Rathke gave a brief and interesting history of the borough council, comparing its functions at the time it was organized to those of the present day.

Mr. Fine's subject was "Local Taxes and Tax Collection," and he gave his fellow-members an interesting 15 minute talk. He stated that "Every effort is being made to properly list all residents of the borough of Bristol in order that taxes which are rightfully due shall be collected at the proper time." He stressed the fact that Bristol is one of Pennsylvania's most rapidly growing boroughs with fast progressing surrounding communities. The reason for this extraordinary progress, he informed, is that Bristol has so many advantages to offer industry in locating here. He mentioned transportation by bus to Trenton, Philadelphia and Doylestown; railroad system; and deep waterways. Mr. Fine added that the borough is just a short distance from seashore points. His theme throughout was "Don't sell Bristol short." He concluded "We have everything to offer in the way of facilities to encourage expansion."

Dinner was served by the women of St. James' Church.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

A friendship which meant long Sunday afternoons spent together in walks, attending a theatre, then a treat of ice cream, has been broken by death.

Wilmot Johnson, Doylestown, who wondered why his friend, Raymond MacFarland, didn't appear at the county seat for the weekly treat which Johnson provided, learned this week of the death of MacFarland, who worked for his board on a farm in Doylestown township.

The friendship began casually last summer, the 59-year-old Doylestown man entertaining each Sunday his 66-year-old friend. Since MacFarland received no compensation in money for his work, according to Johnson, the latter made it his pleasure to take the elderly man to the "movies," provide bus fare, then buy ice cream. "We always took a walk about town to see any new buildings or improvements," commented Johnson in speaking of the friend whom he met casually on the street at Doylestown last July, and whose visits he now misses so much.

Addressing the monthly meeting of the Bucks County Bankers Association, at Doylestown, Monday evening, District Attorney Edward G. Biester praised the citizenry of Bucks county for their appreciation and willingness to co-operate in law enforcement problems.

Two Naval Reserve Men Hurt; Car Strikes Pole

YARDELY, Mar. 25—Falling to note that a road near here came to a dead-end, two of three members of the U. S. Naval Reserve, stationed at Willow Grove Naval Air Station, were injured early last evening, when the automobile in which they were riding struck a pole and hurtled 50 feet into a field. One of the three was thrown from the vehicle.

The injured: John Gibson, 26, cut over right eye.

Thomas Ryan, 29, possible fracture of ribs and possible skull fracture.

The driver of the car, Mark W. Billig, 26, of Catawissa, a naval reserve officer who is stationed at Willow Grove, was unhurt. Ryan was the one thrown from the machine.

The trio was taken back to the Willow Grove station in an ambulance which was dispatched from there at the request of the three. According to State Police of the Langhorne barracks, who investigated, Billig was driving the machine east toward Yardley, One-half mile west of this borough, at the intersection of the road leading to Newtown, he evidently failed to notice that the road came to a dead-end. The right side of the car struck a pole, and the car continued into a field. The machine was considerably damaged on the right side.

Rotarians See Movies At Weekly Session

A representative of the Towmotor Corporation, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of machinery employed in the handling and moving of material in industry, presented an interesting reel of sound movies to members of the Bristol Rotary Club at St. James Parish House yesterday afternoon, which graphically illustrated the importance of this type of machinery in moving raw materials to the production line and the moving of the finished products to their points of exit for shipment to the market.

Vice-president, William J. Begley, was in charge of the meeting. Guests were present from Morrisville, Jenkintown and Wynnmor. Honorary member John S. Roberts, Jr. was also present.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT HOLDS UP SNACK BAR

Robs Quakertown Place of $50 and Hits Clerk With Blackjack

STATE POLICE ON CASE

QUAKERTOWN, Mar. 25—A youth walked into the Quakertown snack bar, hit a clerk on the head and took about $50 in cash out of the cash register.

The bandit, described as red-headed, walked into the place at about 9:25 Tuesday night when LeRoy Hillegas was on duty. The store is known as Allen's Snack Bar, Fifth and Apple streets. He ordered a quart of ice cream.

When Hillegas had finished dipping the ice cream and was about to turn around with the package, he was struck on the head twice by the thug with a blackjack.

The thug snatched the contents of the cash register, amounting to approximately $50 in cash, and fled, but not until Hillegas had scuffled with the thug for a few minutes.

About this time, Abram Syter, Quakertown, entered the store and the three fought for a few seconds when the thug got away and ran down the street. Syter ran after him, up and down several side streets and alleys and finally lost track of him.

The owner of the snack bar is Mrs. Doris Allen, who estimated the loss to Quakertown police. George Harr and S. J. Reider.

State Police of the Quakertown sub-station have also assisted in the investigation.

The thief was reported to be about 17 years old, five feet, nine inches tall, and wore a heavy tan shirt.

Two committees were appointed at the Laurel Bend Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the school house last evening. The nominating committee is composed of: James Foley, Mrs. Lloyd Bucher and Miss Breslin; and playground equipment committee is headed by Melvin Houser.

A "white elephant" sale is to be held in conjunction with the April session; and named to serve refreshments at the next meeting are Mrs. Walter Prickett, Mrs. Fred Douglass, and J. Haebler.

A covered dish supper preceded last night's meeting, the committee outlining the affair being composed of: Mrs. Nelson Simon, Mrs. J. Vattimo, Mrs. M. Houser and Mrs. Charles Nelson. A motion picture "Silver Skates" was enjoyed, the entertainment committee comprising: Mrs. Vattimo, Mrs. M. Sweet and Mrs. C. Schutze.

The clothing exchange project is now in operation, and members report that clothing for boys, sizes eight, nine and ten, is in demand. In charge of this is Mrs. Harry Hughes, Mrs. Prickett and Mrs. Douglass.

TRIGGER WAR

President Truman and his New Deal advisers believe they have found a "gimmick" with which to get around the Constitution whenever it gets in their way.

A gimmick is a hidden device to prevent something from working the way it should. If a butcher hides a weight in his scales, that's a gimmick. So is a magnet hidden inside a roulette wheel. In both cases, the gimmick operates to change the normal and honest operation of the instrument to which it is applied. The gimmick on the scales prevents it from recording true weight. The gathering will be addressed by Dr. N. P. Larson, president of the newly-formed Hulmeville school board, and by Dr. Oliver Heckman, superintendent of Langhorne-Middletown schools.

The two above mentioned, together with Phillip Lewis, Langhorne, president of the five-area board in this locality, and Kenneth Conly, Pennell, president of Hulmeville-Middletown board, and the members of Hulmeville board will answer questions.

The local board is endeavoring to solve the problem of raising sufficient funds for school purposes here, a "mounting deficit" having been given by members of the former board as reason for mass resignation last July.

Televise Racing 'Plane Built By Bristol Men

The airplane built by William "Bart" Denight, Trenton avenue, here and designed by "Nick" D'Apuzzo, Bristol Terrace I, was televised yesterday in Camden for Station WFL.

The plane which is a racing type was "shot" on the ground and in "takeoffs" and ground "shots." Both the builder and the designer and George Hamilton, of Philadelphia, were present.

Variety of Activities Keep Girl Scouts Busy

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 25—Thirty-five were present at the meeting of Girl Scout Troop, No. 27, in the Scout cabin on Wednesday evening. At the leaders' meeting in Doylestown on Monday, Andalusia troop was represented by Mrs. Howard Beldin, Mrs. James Doneker and Mrs. James Wright.

Mrs. Norman Gaugler issued additional camp stamps to the girls and supervised work on proficiency badges. The afghan which the girls are knitting for the Red Cross is nearly finished. The Scouts have been requested to take the squares and also any wool they have at home to the meetings, in order that other girls may assist in completing the article.

Mrs. James Doneker assisted the girls in preparing Easter gifts for their mothers. Others covered cigar boxes with wall paper. Swimming applications were issued by Mrs. James Wright who also directed games and dances.

The troop will attend a Girl Scout affair at convention hall, Philadelphia, on April 2nd. Plans were made for an outdoor meeting to be held next Wednesday. Troop members will meet at the Scout cabin on Bristol Pike at seven p. m., after which they will hike to "Camp Andalusia." A "doggie" and marshmallow roast will take place. The Scouts were instructed to wear old clothing and galoshes for the occasion. Mrs. Fred Keifer and Mrs. Frank Tomlinson attended the meeting, as did two visitors from Croydon, Mrs. Wilcox and daughter, Emma.

GHQ HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE, TOKYO, Mar. 25—Horace A. Hinds, Wilson avenue, Bristol, Pa., was recently promoted to the grade of "sergeant." It was disclosed by GHQ Hometown News Service at General MacArthur's Headquarters in the Far East Command.

Hinds is presently assigned to the 293rd Army Band, Headquarters and Service Group, at General MacArthur's Headquarters in Tokyo. He performs the duties of a trumpet player in the concert and marching band, and first trumpet in the GHQ dance band. In addition to these he also is noncommissioned officer in charge of his squad room, and company fire warden.

Sgt. Hinds entered the army shortly after graduation from Bristol high school in June, 1947. He took basic infantry training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and also attended the band training school there. In late January, 1948, he embarked for the Far East Command from Fort Lawton, Wash., arriving in General Headquarters approximately a month later, and assumed his present duties with the 293rd army band.

The 293rd army band is often seen marching on the narrow thoroughfares of Tokyo, swinging along in perfect time, making split second "column rights," and capturing the admiration of practically all personnel, civilian and military, who watch them. The 293rd is often called "the best band in the Far East Command."

Sgt. Hinds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hinds, presently reside at 2116 Wilson avenue.

TO COLLECT ITEMS

The route will be from Mill road, through Torresdale Manor, State Road, Penn Manor, Andalusia Manor, Andalusia, and as much of Cornwells Heights as can conveniently be covered.

STUDENTS STAGE WONDERFUL SHOW AT BENSLEM HIGH

Repeat Performance of 13th Annual Gymkhana To Be Given Tonight

CROWD IS THRILLED

Colorful Performance Holds Large Audience In Suspense

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 25—There will be a repeat performance tonight of the 13th annual Gymkhana (gymnastic exhibition) given by the students of the Bensalem Township high school. The exhibition will be held in the high school auditorium on the Bristol Pike, here.

Last night's colorful performance held the audience in suspense as the students went through their antics in the various events of the exhibition. Outstanding was the performance on the horse, flying rings, and parallel bars.

Some of the work done on the rings and bars usually take several years to perfect but the Bensalem students grasped it during this season of "gym" classes under the direction of the physical education directors, John Messenger and Annette Reher. It was brought out that the "crucifix" number exhibited by "Bill" Hart was done with three days' practice.

With the rings, the boys and girls did uprisings, upstarts, galnor and dismounts, drop uprisings, dismounts, and double-cut off with dismounts. On the horse, the gymnasts did the high front vaults, leg circles, scissors, thief vaults, and head stands with kip. The performances on the parallel bars were the low underswing upstart, uprisings, drop-kips, front somersaults, back hand springs and dismounts, side circles, shoulder balances, and double-cut on and catch leg circles.

Christine Kelly was the only girl performer on the parallel bars and was in a class with the boys. Another outstanding girl performer was Dotty Ringham, who had one of the leading roles on the mat event.

Larry Michaels and George Ashton thrilled the large gathering on the mats when both dove over the bodies of nine youths placed side by side.

One of the most colorful scenes of the evening was the drill put on by 15 girls with green and red flashlights after the lights of the auditorium were put out. Fourteen girls dressed in cowgirl suits and singing and tapping to the tune of "Silent City Sue" made an interesting number, while over 40 boys took part in the pyramids number which featured the building of body pyramids.

To divert from the serious business of gym work, two clowns, Warren Brady and Joe Graziosa, kept the audience amused with their humorous undertakings.

Pianists for the occasion were Betty Lou Uslin and Myrna Jean VanSant, while the drummers in the Swedish calisthenics number were Richard Gloyd and Charles Babbitt.

EYE THAT NEVER CLOSES

What may turn out to be one of the most important of the current projects for defense in this country has been given the green light by the Senate. This is the bill to provide a radar screen around the whole country. Through cooperation with Canada, the network will be supplemented by a string of polar radio stations. In effect the nation's defense measures will be strengthened by the addition of an eye that never sleeps.

The project, as defense projects go, is relatively inexpensive. The initiative expenditure is limited to $85,000,000, but ultimately the cost will be $161,000,000, or more. The bill authorizing the expenditure came out of the House with a minimum of debate. The Senate has passed it and the bill now awaits the President's signature.

The installation of a warning system, with stations placed at intervals around the periphery of the continent, is only the first step in providing complete protection. Crews must be recruited and trained. Presumably a system of coordination of flight information will be worked out with the airlines and governmental agencies.

While radar is deadly accurate in spotting and tracking planes that come within range of its scanning rays, there is still no way of positively identifying a friendly from a hostile plane without special equipment.

CANADA CUTS TAXES
Sweeping tax cuts announced by Canada's Finance Minister Douglas Abbott when he introduced the new budget will come as welcome news to the Dominion's taxpayers. Taxes on everything from incomes to chocolate bars are reduced.

Income tax exemptions for unmarried persons have been raised to $1,000 and for married persons to $2,000. In the United States these figures are $600 and $1,200, respectively. A married man in Canada, with no children, will now pay income taxes of only $1,600 on an income of $10,000.

Excise taxes in Canada, on items such as jewelry and luggage have been reduced to 10 per cent. In the United States they remain at 20 per cent.

How long Washington can maintain the present intolerable tax rates, in the face of these reductions in Canada, is a question that is worrying tax-spending politicians. Before the war taxes in Canada were higher than in the United States.

In addition to these great reductions in taxes, Canada has reduced its national debt $1,624,000,000 in the last three years. The Dominion's debt now stands at $11,797,000,000.

The tax burden is this country's No. 1 problem. Excessive taxes played a great part in the postwar inflation and are now responsible for buyers' resistance to high prices. The truth is that no country can long be prosperous when taxes take as large a bite out of national income as they do in this country.

From this second point of view, an obvious infringement on the authority of the President, a "check and balance," like this proposition of leaving it to someone else—Congress, in this case—to make a supreme decision like a declaration of war, is a galling and humiliating curtailment of the power he would like to exercise.

All the great military despots of history—from Alexander the Great down through Caesar and Napoleon to the more recent days of Hitler and Mussolini—all these monarchs made up their own minds when they wanted a war. They didn't have to ask anyone else—especially a legislative branch of the government to which they had already expressed their strong antipathy.

Going beyond this feeling on the part of the Executive, there is a somewhat different slant, though reaching the same conclusion, in the minds of the "statesmen" and bureaucrats who work next to the throne. These are largely career zealots who gradually come to believe the end justifies any means, and that they know a lot better what is good for the American people than the people do themselves.

This corps has dragged us into several wars, during the recent generations, "through the back door." Today they do business around the globe with despotic governments, Socialist dictatorships largely, which have brushed aside all "nonsense" about the people having a voice in their public affairs. These foreign leaders can declare war, or not, as they choose, and make their decision stick. It is only human nature for America's bureaucrats to want the same scale of power.

An outright proposition of amending the Constitution to transfer the war-making authority from Congress to President would be the aboveboard way of getting the question decided. But such an amendment wouldn't have an outside chance to be adopted. It's proposal would alarm the whole nation.

Therefore, the use of a "gimmick" to get the same result. The gimmick is that of legislating (and in this case, amending the Constitution) by passing treaties.

Under the Constitution, treaties duly ratified become part of the supreme law of the land.

All that the Truman New Dealers need to do, to amend any part of the Constitution, is to write a treaty doing this, and jam it through the Senate.

Considerable amendment to the basic law already has been accomplished, in local areas, by this means. The Mexican Water Pact of 1945, for example, radically changed the Constitutional status of American citizens and interests in the affected American territory.

But these prior instances were mere dress-rehearsals for the big test case raised by the Atlantic Pact.

This is the first time it has been badly proposed to change a basic, fundamental point in the Constitution by the process of putting it into a treaty.

Under the Atlantic Pact, the declaration of war will become an automatic, "trigger" proposition. Events—even staged events—far off from the American homefront will start the war going. Congress will have the right only to admit that the war is going on—not to decide between war and peace. Or Congress could, of course, if it wanted to be silly about it, vote that no war existed—despite the fact it would actually be in progress.

Under the terms of the Atlantic Pact, and the collateral arms program for European nations, war could be started at any time by any of the foreign powers to whom we are now about to supply war equipment. Our military equipment would be involved at once, together with any American troops sent to their countries as part of our rearming program.

We would be morally bound—and probably legally bound as well—to pitch all-out into this war someone else started.

It is fantastic to argue that in such a situation it would be Congress, rather than the President, who was starting the war.

On the other hand, think this over: No race of people in all history could ever claim the right to call themselves "free" when they surrendered to someone else the power to decide whether they would be at war or at peace.

"Johnny" Green's field goal from the center of the court with seconds left to play gave the Philadelphia Eagles a close 40-39 triumph over the Bristol League All-Stars last night in the first game on the high school floor.

Green, star of the Mercerberg Academy team, made his goal after Ben Kish, Eagles' football star had dropped in a pair of double-deckers to cut the All-Stars' lead from 29-34 to 39-35. However, with eight seconds remaining to be played, Joe Roe was fouled and had a chance to deadlock the score but he missed out.

The All-Stars outplayed their foes in the first half in building up a 28-13 lead, taking the edge by 16-4 in the first quarter. But the entry of Ben Kish into the game at the start of the second half made the Eagles appear to be a different team. It held the All-Stars to five points in the third quarter while it scored eight. In the last session, the Eagles went to town to capture the contest.

The sports fans of this section, the largest crowd of the season, were familiar with the names in the Eagles' lineup, there being Kish and Jack Hinkel, of the Eagles; Buddy Sutton, of the Cincinnati baseball team; "Mike" Jarmaluk, of the New York Bulldogs; "Walt" Stickle, of the Chicago Bears; Charlie Hammond, of Franklin and Marshall; Bob Peterson, of Germantown Academy, and Green.

In the first game Wednesday night, the Bristol High School team will play the Bristol League All-Stars. Coaches Jerry Bloom and Harry McClister will play with the high school team.

CHEVROLET

is the most Beautiful BUY of all for all-round quality...for all-round value

The most Beautiful BUY for Styling

Overnight, men and women everywhere have singled out the new Chevrolet as the most beautiful buy of all.

You'll find it's the most beautiful buy for styling, of course... for it alone offers the ultra-luxurious lines, colors, fittings and fabrics of Body by Fisher at lowest cost. And you'll also find that it's the most beautiful buy of all from every point of view and on every point of value... because it alone offers all these advantages of higher-priced cars at the lowest prices and at such low cost of operation and upkeep!

The most Beautiful BUY for Comfort. You'll have the highest degree of comfort in Chevrolet's Super-Size Interior with extra-wide "Five-Foot Seats," extra-generous head, leg and elbowroom and the advanced heating* and ventilating system of a car that breathes.

The most Beautiful BUY for Driving and Riding Ease—with new Center-Point Design. This remarkable 4-way engineering advance—including Center-Point Steering, Center-Point Seating, Lower Center of Gravity without loss of road clearance and Center-Point Rear Suspension—gives driving and riding results found elsewhere only in costlier cars.

The most Beautiful BUY for Thrills and Thrift. Here's the only low-priced car with a Valve-in-Head engine—the type now being adopted by higher-priced cars—and Chevrolet's world's champion engine holds all records for miles served and owners satisfied.

The most Beautiful BUY for All-Round Safety. You'll enjoy maximum safety with: (1) New Certi-Safe Hydraulic Brakes; (2) Extra-Strong Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction; (3) New Panoramic Visibility; (4) Safety Plate Glass in windshield and all windows; and (5) the super-safe Unitized Knee-Action Ride.

*Heater and defroster units optional at extra cost.

NEW "DUAL-LIFE"
RIVETLESS BRAKE LININGS—
LAST UP TO TWICE AS LONG!

Linings are secured to brake shoes by a special "Perma-Bond" process developed by Chevrolet and General Motors' Research Laboratories and thoroughly tested and proved by millions of units under all kinds of driving conditions. There are no rivets to limit lining wear or to score the brake drums. As a result, almost the entire lining thickness is usable and lining life is practically doubled. Chevrolet is the first full-sized car in America to bring you this important braking advancement!

much a law-abiding citizenry means to the district attorney's office. He pointed out that Bucks county has a very high and favorable record for law enforcement among the jurists and lawyers, which the prosecuting attorney pointed out, is largely attributable to the efforts of the individual citizen and juror.

Mr. Biester also explained the various court operations and proceedings, and the problems of probation, desertion and juvenile offenders of Bucks county.

The annual meeting of the Bucks county group will be held on May 11. President J. C. Mashke, of Sellersville, appointed the following nominating committee to present the names of candidates for office: T. Wells Knipe, Perkasie; Thomas Diver, Doylestown; J. C. Shepley, Sellersville; Clarence C. Kohl, Southampton, and John C. Johnson, Bristol.

With the close of the letter writing contest among the high school students and seventh and eighth grade pupils in the Plumstead schools, it has been learned that 52 entries had been made.

With the cooperation of the Plumstead township school board, the Gardenview Community Association invited the young people to write letters to indicate whether they prefer Plumstead to affiliate with the Central Bucks Joint school board or the Deep Run Valley Joint school board.

The letters were opened, and are now being carefully studied by the judges. Of the 52 contest awards, 23 will be presented cash awards.

RECOMMENDS A NEW LOOK IN DRAPERIES FOR COMING SPRING

By Miss Frances Vannoy

(Home Economics Representative)

The following advice is given to those planning a new spring look for draperies in the home.

The type of draperies used depends upon the homemaker's personal likes and dislikes, the type of windows, and the location of the house. A house in the country does not need so much privacy as the town house.

Draperies can bring color into a room. With plain walls and floor coverings, draperies can have designs as well as color. Pleated drapes used with patterned wallpaper, upholstery, and rugs bring in too much design.

The length of draperies varies with the house. They may come to the sill, to the bottom of the frame or apron, or they may just clear the floor. Long, narrow windows can be made to appear shorter and wider. Have the draperies come to the window sill, and set them out on the window frame as far as possible.

Draperies should not be skimpy. Make them twice as wide as the window. Use cream or white saten linings to make the design and color of the drapery stand out. Some draperies are more effective with the light filtering through. For them no lining is needed.

The tailored finish is the most professional looking unless the drapery heading is to be hidden under a cornice or valance, but pinch, box, or cartridge pleats may be used. Buy a stiffening which has slits through which the drapery roll is run. It forms pleats automatically as material is pushed together.

Various types of drapery materials are chintz, cretonne, damask, homespun, and brocades. Choose the color, texture, and type of material best related to the room and its furnishings. When choosing fixtures, select firm, inconspicuous types.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Smerian B. Brown
Pastor
Bethel A.M.E. Church

We pray, O God, this day for deliverance. We want no easy escape from misfortune and disaster, or no charm protection from affliction and sorrow. Rather would we seek strength of will to keep our spirits free from malice, envy, rancor, superstition, prejudice, selfishness, greed and sin. Grant us uprightness of living above the level of a soulless society and beyond the control of secular surroundings. Send us the blessing of eternal grace, the gift of God for a broken and beaten world. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

ST. ANN'S EARNS WAY TO FINALS IN LEAGUE RACE

St. Ann's A. A. earned their way to the finals of the Bristol Basketball League by crushing the Falls Alumni aggregation, 60-45, last night on the high school floor. The "Saints" will now meet the Profs team in a three-game series for the championship, starting next Wednesday night.

Falls furnished little opposition to the Purple and Gold in the contest. The tilt was close in the first period which ended 13-10 but from then on the St. Ann's lead began to swell. By the time the half rolled around, "Kenny" Stoll had sunk in five double-deckers to help the "Saints" to a 26-18 lead.

From the opening whistle of the second half to the end of the fracas, Falls was never less than ten points behind. In fact, the finale saw the Alumni contingent trailing by 15 or more throughout. In the last few seconds, Van Lenten gave the losers two points by tapping the ball in their basket.

The winners were poor shots from the foul line as they made but six out of 17 tries. Even "Ken" Stoll who had 12 double-deckers for his night's work could not convert from the charity line, he missing all of his seven attempts. However, that dozen of field goals plus 17 points by Van Lenten gave the St. Ann's aggregation its victory.

The Falls team was erratic in both its passing and shooting and received its worst licking of the season. At times, both teams were wild with their passing which coupled with the large St. Ann's lead made the game uninteresting.

Joe Natale did nice defensive work for the winners with "Norm" White playing a fine game for Falls.

Sportsmen's Briefs

By JOE ELBERSON

Here's the situation . . . from the offices of the Pennsylvania Game Commission comes this release on hunting license fees in Pennsylvania:

"If Pennsylvania's Legislature decides to increase the present $2.00 resident hunting license fee to $3.65, it would still be the biggest bargain found anywhere for the privilege of hunting both big and small game and trapping all kinds of furbearers," remarked Ross L. Leffler, President of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, today.

"A study of the fees charged residents of other States shows that hunting and trapping privileges are generally from two to four times as much as the $2.00 rate which has been in effect in Pennsylvania since 1927."

After a careful analysis last fall, the Commission determined that it would require a resident hunting license fee of not less than $5.00 to do the things the hunters are demanding. The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at its October 1948 and February 1949 meetings unanimously endorsed a resident fee of $3.65, fifteen cents of which would be paid to the issuing agent.

Mr. Leffler explained that money saved during the war, now nearly exhausted, is being used to finance the equivalent of a $3.00 program with a $2.00 license fee, and pointed out that a $3.65 license fee would only continue the present program and provide for very little improvement.

"According to current reports," he further remarked, "the Legislature believes a $3.15 resident fee to be sufficient. This means that the Commission would receive but $3.00 net to carry on all of its activities. If that fee should become enacted into law there is one thing sure—everybody will be disappointed. It will be impossible to show any improvement and to create any satisfaction among the million hunters of the Keystone State with only a $3.15 fee.

"We just released a tabulation to the legislators, sportsmen's clubs and others interested, showing that for the privileges presently granted for a $2.00 fee in Pennsylvania, New York charges $6.50, Ohio $6.25, New Jersey $3.15, Maryland $5.25, Virginia $2.50, Michigan $3.50, California $5.00, Illinois $4.00, Wisconsin $6.00, and Connecticut $6.35.

"Three dollars and sixty-five cents is the barest minimum needed, and $3.15 which has been suggested by the Legislature, just will not do the job nor make any improvement for our sportsmen.

"Pennsylvania's sportsmen should be willing to spend a 'penny a day' to hunt the American way," concluded Leffler.

Shoot . . . this Sunday, beginning at 12 noon, the Newportville Rod & Gun Club will hold a white flyer shoot over the club traps at Lake Louise, Edlington. All shooters are invited to participate.

Yours for the writing . . . filled with useful facts and tips which all shooters and hunters can put to practical use, a new, revised edition of the popular Western Ammunition Handbooks is now available to sportsmen without charge.

The 76-page edition of the Handbook, one of the leading publications of its kind and of which many thousands have been distributed, may be had on request by writing to Department 200, Western Cartridge

Co., division of Olin Industries, Inc., East Alton, Illinois.

Shooting lore and hints, ballistic data and valuable information on ammunition, shotgun and rifle performance are among the many facts presented in the illustrated Handbook. It reveals, for example, which of today's center fire cartridges are best for various species of game animals and makes a similar listing of shotgun shells for waterfowl and upland game birds. The science of trajectory is explained and diagrammed in simple language. Western's unique charts showing the distinctive trajectory curves of many popular bullets enable shooters to determine how much to hold over or under to score hits when the target is at a distance greater or less than the range for which their rifle is sighted in.

Shotgun patterns, shot sizes and the proper use of various degrees of choke are among the many phases of shotgun shooting discussed, along with the speed of flight of wildfowl (a vital consideration in "leading" birds) and the weight of individual pellets in common use today. Among other varied subjects explained are sighting in a rifle, the meaning of the numerals used in modern cartridge designa-

Plymouth's new special deluxe is featured above. Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.
